

- ✓ On the morning of October 10, Russia launched massive missile strikes across the entire territory of Ukraine.
- ✓ As of 12 p.m. General Staff reports: Russia fired 83 missiles at Ukraine, 43 of them were shot down by air defense forces
- ✓ Not only dozens of missiles are used but Iranian Shahed drones are operating too.
- ✓ 11 important infrastructure facilities in 8 regions and the city of Kyiv were damaged.
- ✓ The targets were energy facilities throughout the country: Kyiv region and Khmelnytskyi region, Lviv and Dnipro, Vinnytsia, Ivano-Frankivsk region, Zaporizhzhia, Sumy region, Kharkiv region, Zhytomyr region, Kirovohrad region as well as southern regions. Interruptions in cellular network, electricity and water supply systems are possible throughout the country.
- ✓ Also, on the night of October 10, civilian objects - high-rise buildings in Zaporizhzhia were once again hit by Russian forces.
- ✓ There are many casualties among the civilian population, the strikes were carried out on Monday morning when many people were on their way to work. In Kyiv in the morning, there were attacks in the very downtown of the capital, office buildings, playgrounds, a university, a train station, a museum, pedestrian bridges were damaged. The number of killed and wounded is being determined. As for 4 p.m., 11 people were killed and 89 wounded. Still, many casualties are to be confirmed.

Kyiv center, 10.10.22

Zaporizhzhia, 10.10.22

Map of morning shelling 10.10.22

